

would like to invite you to workshops

Right to our cities:
inspiration of the civic activism from Prague
online in Zoom (English language)

VÁCLAV ORCÍGR, LEADER OF THE CAMPAIGN
"PRAGUE – CITY FOR LIFE", ARNIKA (CZECH REPUBLIC)

Wednesday 6 December, 16:00

Post-socialist space and urban activism

What will you learn? The specifics of the post-socialist city and the related areas of governance, the phenomena of privatization, gentrification, financialization, neoliberalization of governance, and the basic theoretical foundations of urban activism (the right to the city, the context of social movements).

Wednesday 13 December, 16:00

Development projects – examples from Prague

What will you learn? The construction near Masaryk Train Station, the transformation of Prague's brownfields, the problem of high-rise buildings and downtown development, that have generated specific controversies and sparked debate on the way decisions about the city are made, about the principles of sound urbanism and the protection of public interests.

Questions/answers and the discussion will follow each presentation.

Please, register for the participation online here.

The events are organised with a financial support from the Transition Promotion Program of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Czech Republic.
